5) Since the Supdt has disposed of 905 copies as per list approved by the Diwan some principle must have been followed - of which however there is no data available in this office. There yet remain only 95 copies. It is doubtful whether more can be printed without much additional expense. If this can be done the question of supplying to the parties as per list may be considered - otherwise the Diwan's orders are apparently to conserve for future use the few remaining copies.

8) I have noted on the linked Case where Mr. Hale states that he cannot afford to give copies to all that ask for it as it is a publication for sale & is available to the public on payt. After all Govt Offices are supplied if there are enough spare copies public bodies like libraries have the first claim and even here there is usually preference. Next as the reports & matters contained in it bear more of real utility to surrounding Country preferably Kanara Speaking where the conditions of life are similar. Following a basis sketched out above available copies may perhaps be sent gratis to public bodies so far as they are available there fore, more copies cannot be provided without excessive cost.

34 The Suggestions for disposal have to be framed with respect to (i) the limited Supply of copies available & (ii) the period of time during which legitimate demands may arise

35. The following Suggestions may be considered :—

A :- Needs of select public offices or institutions in Mysore shall receive the first consideration.

B : Next, free Reading Rooms or Public libraries in Mysore shall receive consideration in the matter of free Supply.

C. Offices of News papers & Magazines in Mysore may also be given free supply, unless inexpedient.

D : No officer or official is entitled to a free copy in his individual capacity.

E. No private body or institution outside Mysore shall, as a rule, be given a free supply

F. Nor to any falling outside A. B & C.

In the case of D and E, however, a definite number may be reserved for sale at half price within a specified period of time, if considered expedient:

37) There is no need to send copies of the census report to the District committees of the Economic Conference. These committees have generally no library of their own: and the members thereof can whenever they require have ready access, whenever they require it, to the copies in the offices of the Dept. Chiefs (who are presidents of the committees) & their officers.

38) I do not also see the necessity for supplying the report to the Chief Secretary's Bangalore city: as the publication is not one which is much in use for purposes of reference by the officers in the city: and as the Dept. officers can have easy access to the copies in the Public offices - as the Dept. Asst. Chiefs, Chief Supdts. &c. - whenever they want it
